

SERVICE RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR GAS SERVICE

15. Disposition of Service

Gas service is only offered to the ultimate consumer, and shall not be remetered, resold or shared by others, nor shall it be extended outside the premises for service to other customers.

- A. Temporary Service. The Company does not normally offer temporary service. However, the Company may furnish temporary service provided it has sufficient capacity available at the proposed location. Temporary service agreements shall be for the term specified in the agreements. They may be extended by written agreement. However, 12 days' written notice of intent to suspend or disconnect temporary service will be provided where temporary service is used beyond the period specified in the written agreement and where no subsequent written agreement extending the temporary service period exists.

When temporary service is furnished, the estimated expense of installation and removal, less salvage, may be required to be paid by the customer prior to providing such service. The customer shall provide a suitable support for the meter and appurtenances. The customer will be responsible to pay the balance due upon completion of the work.

- B. Improper Function of Customer Facilities. The Company shall not be liable for damage resulting from the equipment of the customer or damage caused by energy after it leaves the point of delivery. The Company shall not be liable for waste or inoperative appliances and service beyond the connection on the customer's side of the Company's meter.
- C. Diversion of Natural Gas Service. In any case of tampering or interfering with the proper functioning of a meter installation or evidence thereof, or of any theft or any diversion of natural gas service, the customer will be liable for any estimated or actual use and any associated expenses.
