

REQUEST FOR EXEMPTION

DEPOSITS AND LATE FEES (ILLINOIS RESIDENTIAL CUSTOMERS)

Residential Illinois customers who meet certain income levels may be exempt from late fees and deposits as stated under Sections 8-201.7 and 8-201.8 of the Illinois Public Utilities Act.

If you are currently in the Low-Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP), you have already been approved for this exemption; late fees and deposits will not be charged. No further action is needed.

To qualify, your household income must be at 80% or less of the Area Median Income (AMI) for your county of residence, or you must be eligible for, or currently enrolled in the Federal Communications Commission's Lifeline program. Go to www.fcc.gov/general/lifeline-program-low-income-consumers to learn more about the FCC's program.

Renewal Details

Approval for the exemption must be renewed through the above process 12 months from the date of original approval. MidAmerican Energy will remind you it is time to renew approximately one month before your exemption expires.

Important Information

Exemptions and return of deposit are not available to customers who have been identified as having tampered with their MidAmerican Energy equipment.

Eligibility for these exemptions and return of deposit does not qualify you for the Illinois Low-Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP), or any other utility financial assistance program.

This exemption program does not protect you from collection action for unpaid bills. If you have a past due bill that you cannot pay, call MidAmerican Energy to discuss available payment options.
